

Ask a Pro Instructions – NFWC 2022 Attendees

Ask-a-Pro Sessions Are Now Open!

We've rounded up some top publishing industry experts to offer complimentary consults to attendees! Ask-a-Pro sessions last 15-minutes and are conducted one-on-one between you and the pro-delivered via phone or video call.

This is not a sales pitch for either party. It's an opportunity for NFWC attendees to ask questions and receive guidance from professionals.

Ask-a-Pro is completely FREE for Gold, Platinum, and VIP attendees! (Sorry, Live access attendees are not eligible.)

Space is limited for our Ask-a-Pro sessions and they fill up quickly. Most of our consultants have just a handful of appointment times available. So, if there is someone you really want to meet with, be sure to sign up right away.

Once the sessions are full, registration for Ask-a-Pro will be closed.

How it Works (PLEASE READ)

Consultations will take place the week of the conference beginning May 2nd. Some consults happen concurrently during conference hours so plan accordingly. Additional details:

- NFWC Gold, Platinum and VIP attendees can register for up to three Ask-a-Pro sessions. All sessions last up to 15 minutes.
- Pros will call you by phone during your set appointment time, unless they contact you in advance to make other arrangements.
- International participants must provide a Skype ID to participate.
- Sessions will not be rescheduled. If the pro experiences a conflict/emergency and is unable to attend, it is up to him/her to reschedule at a later date. Remember, they are generously volunteering to deliver these consultations and we are offering these sessions as a complimentary bonus to NFWC attendees.
- Please do not contact any of the pros about your session details or to ask questions in advance. This is what your consultation time is for. However, some pros may reach out to you in advance.
- These sessions to fill up quickly to be sure to reserve your sessions right away!

How to Register for Consultations with the Pros

1. Reserve up to three Ask a Pro sessions here:
<https://nonfictionauthors.acuityscheduling.com/>
2. Choose the pro you want to meet with to view that person's schedule availability.
3. Set your local time zone, and then proceed.
4. If time slots are still available with the pro you've chosen, pick the one that works best for you.
5. Fill in required fields: Name, email, phone, etc.
6. You may opt to create an account with Acuity Scheduling if you'd like to make it easy to auto-fill your information with additional time slots, but this is totally optional.
7. You will receive an email confirmation for your appointment, which also includes a link to cancel your appointment if necessary. Your pro will also receive an email confirmation.

HINT: Once you have clicked on a pro's name, you'll see a little drop-down arrow on the right side where you can click again to return to the full directory of all pros.
